

Hospital Short Of Nurses; Training Course Planned; Seek Aides On Paid Basis

The board of directors of the Annie M. Warner hospital has tentatively adopted two plans to relieve the acute shortage of nurses at the hospital, the first, to provide immediate relief, and the second a longer-range program.

The latter plan is to set up a training course for practical nurses at the hospital, through the employment of a trained nurse to act as instructor, and recruitment of high school graduates for a one-year course leading to a certificate and qualification as practical nurses.

The second plan, which the hospital hopes to put into effect immediately, is the recruitment of nurses' aides to assist the regular duty, registered nurses at the hospital, on a paid basis.

Short 10-12 Nurses
With the recent opening of the Christian H. Musselman annex at the hospital, the nursing staff is "short" between 10 and 12 nurses, Walter R. Doud, hospital administrator, said today. It has been impossible, with the present number of nurses, to operate the nurses' station in the new building. The first floor of the latter is being operated from the nurses' station in the old building.

It has also been impossible to use all of the rooms in the annex, because of the shortage, at least at all times, Mr. Doud said. Four of the rooms are not in use now, and have been used, since the annex was opened, only when they could be utilized by patients not requiring constant nursing care.

Staff Fluctuates
"The help situation at the hospital, as regards nurses, is becoming progressively worse," Mr. Doud said. The nursing staff fluctuates, he said. Recently the number available has ranged from 16 to 18. These nurses work in three shifts. Each nurse has one day off per week. This would average five or less nurses per shift, but Mr. Doud pointed out that illness and summer vacations further reduce the number. Actually, the shifts are "unbalanced," daytime shifts having more nurses on duty usually than the night shifts.

"Because of the pressure and amount of work, the nurses must have vacations or run the risk of illness or breakdown," Mr. Doud said. "Nurses come and go," he added. "Now we are trying to tap another source, as a possible solution to our difficulties."

To Recruit Aides
The two plans were proposed at a meeting of the hospital board, the advisory board of doctors and Mr. Doud, and plans tentatively made to recruit nurses' aides, on a salary basis, and set up a training school for practical nurses by fall, comparable to one in operation in the Carlisle hospital.

The plan calls for taking a dozen or more high school graduates, paying them a small salary and giving them a year's training in nursing theory and practical experience which would qualify them as practical nurses.

"This would be a help to the hospital and a great benefit to the community," Mr. Doud pointed out. "There is a great shortage of registered nurses for private duty. The training program would help provide practical nurses for home duty."

The salary to be paid enrollees has not been decided, he said. For the first two weeks recruits would undergo an indoctrination period, familiarizing themselves with the hospital, the routine and training to follow.

The first six months' training period would be divided into four hours instruction per day and four hours of patient care, under supervision of the registered nurses. The classroom time would be cut and the patient care increased during the last six months.

State Police Say Plane Was 'Joyriding'

State police of the Gettysburg sub-station denied today that an airplane heard circling over Gettysburg and vicinity for three quarters of an hour Tuesday night was a large transport in distress, looking for a place to land. They said it was presumably a private plane "joy-riding." The plane was not from the Gettysburg airport, they added. No reports of any missing planes were received.

Two Are Fined For Code Violations

Richard E. Riley, Littlestown R. 2, paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of making an improper left turn brought by state police before Justice of the Peace Howard G. Blocher, Littlestown.

Raymond S. Strickhouser, Littlestown R. 1, paid a fine before Justice Leo Storm, Boonville, on a charge of failing to stop at a stop sign brought by state police.

Appoint Assistant At County Library

Miss Dorothy Wehler, New Oxford, has been appointed full time assistant at the Adams County Free Library, Miss Kathryn Ohler, Librarian, announced today.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Wehler, the new assistant attended Juniata college for two years where she was an assistant in the college library. During the past year she taught at McCurdy's school, Cumberland township.

E.B. TO SHOW HOW NUTRITION WORK OPERATES

Twenty first and second grade students from East Berlin high school traveled to State College today to demonstrate to Red Cross nutrition experts from throughout the eastern United States how an elementary nutrition class is conducted.

The students were scheduled to present a playlet they developed themselves which demonstrates proper nutrition principles and then take part in a regular class similar to the ones which they held during the winter months as part of their nutrition training in school.

Martin Kunkle played the chief role in the playlet, replacing Jack Holtzinger, who had practiced for the part and was scheduled to be the chief character in the play given this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. In an accident last week Jack suffered the loss of his right eye.

Those Taking Part

The first grade children who were scheduled to take part in the play and demonstration class today are Loreen Albright, Joyce Baiek, Jennie Chromister, Shirley Haar, Cynthia Miller, Doris Nitchman, Jean Tanner, Frederick Innerst, Donald Kroft, Charles Lentz, Ernest Loper, Denton Schwartz, and Larry Wrights. The second graders participating include Floetta Groupe, Brenda Miller, Barbara Spahr, Shirley Smith, Jimmy Ranker and Martin Kunkle.

Treva Myers, a senior in the East Berlin home economics course, was scheduled to teach the demonstration class, assisted by the following junior students, Janet Altland, Martha Eisenhart, Norma Kauffman and Louise Spahr.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Green, Gettysburg R. D., announce the birth of a son Tuesday evening at the hospital.

A daughter was born Tuesday afternoon at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Funt, Aspers.

Local Teachers To Receive Boosts Of $120 To $500 In Yearly Pay Under New Law

Teachers in the Gettysburg public school will receive $11,710 more in salaries as the result of the new salary measure passed by the state legislature and signed recently by Governor Duff, and through increases voted by the Gettysburg school board.

Forty-six teachers will receive increases, beginning September 1, ranging from $120 to $500 a year, according to Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of schools.

The bulk of the teachers will receive $170 more a year, by virtue of the new salary law, Dr. Keefe said. A few will receive $120 increases, while some who were in the lower paid brackets last year will receive as much as $500 more, beginning in September.

The state law provides minimum salaries of $1,950 for teachers without college degrees; a minimum of $2,000 for those with bachelor's degrees, and a $2,200 minimum for teachers holding master's degrees. Pay increments bring the salaries higher than these minimums.

11 CHILDREN ARRIVE TODAY FOR VACATION

Eleven children from the congested areas of New York city were due to arrive in Gettysburg at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon to be guests of eight Adams county families, and for the next two weeks enjoy the country air and learn first-hand about "life on the farm."

These children, between the ages of 7 and 12 years, left New York city this morning by train. They were due in Harrisburg early this afternoon, and will be met by several chaperons in private automobiles, which will bring them to Gettysburg.

Arrangements to bring 15 children here were completed by the Gettysburg committee of the Fresh Air fund, in conjunction with the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air committee. Mrs. J. Walter Coleman is local chairman.

Reception Here
Four of the children scheduled to arrive today were unable to make the trip at this time. Two have colds and two others are suffering from ivy poisoning. It was reported. All of the children must undergo strict physical examinations before leaving New York.

The children will be brought in the private automobiles from Harrisburg here with a state police escort, and will be met by members of the committee and their hosts whose guests they will be for the next two weeks, in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg.

A brief reception is planned, and the children and their hosts will be photographed before going to their temporary country homes.

WARN GROWERS OF CODLING MOTH WORMS

First generation of codling moth are still present in many county orchards and the worms are entering apples in some orchards, according to an apple spray letter sent out Monday afternoon to fruit growers in the county by County Farm Agent M. T. Hartman in consultation with J. O. Pepper and L. O. Weaver of the state college extension staff.

The letter also warns growers to "keep a close watch on foliage for spider mites or their first injury."

Weather conditions have been favorable for scab since petal fall, the letter says, and scab spots may be found on the leaves and fruit in many orchards.

A peach spray letter sent out at the same time reveals that brown rot and scab are present in many peach orchards and points out that showers, humid weather and high temperatures are favorable for the spread of brown rot which has been found in twig cankers and on small mummified fruit.

PLAN WORKSHOP FOR TEACHERS AT BIGLERVILLE

Part of a state-wide experiment in educational democracy is scheduled to take place during the first two weeks of August at the Upper County Joint high school at Biglerville.

"Can a new curriculum for the state's public elementary schools be set up through the decisions of its elementary teachers?" will be the question this and similar meetings will answer.

Approximately 50 teachers from elementary schools throughout the county are scheduled to take part in the discussions on what should be taught and how it should be taught in the county's and commonwealth's schools. The workshop will be held from August 4 through 15.

The findings at the "workshop" scheduled for Biglerville, will become part of the state-wide information being gained on what the children need and how they should be taught.

Plans for the Biglerville "workshop" were completed Tuesday at a meeting in Shippensburg State Teachers' college by Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools; Leslie V. Stock, supervising principal of the Upper County Joint School system; Dr. Levi Gilbert, president of Shippensburg State Teachers'; Mrs. Ruth Harley, director of a similar workshop being conducted at the present time at Shippensburg; Dr. Laversia Powers, chief of elementary education; Dr. Ralph Scafford, supervisor of special education for Adams county, and Dr. Raymond C. Mowery, president of the board of trustees of Shippensburg State Teachers' college.

Mrs. Harley will be director for the Biglerville workshop and the teachers' college will give two credits to all teachers attending the two weeks' course.

Mrs. Harley will bring with her all materials used in the workshop (Please turn to Page 2)

THREE INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Three persons were injured this morning when two cars collided head on at 8:45 o'clock one mile south of Hanover on the Littlestown road.

Injured were Frances H. Sherman, York school teacher, who is a patient at the Hanover hospital pending X-ray examination to determine the nature of her injuries, and Miss Grace Geiselman, Hanover, who was treated at the Hanover hospital for bruise burns of the legs and right elbow and lacerations of the elbow and right leg. The women were riding in the same car with Miss Sherman as driver.

According to state police the Sherman vehicle skidded on the highway and crossed to the opposite lane of traffic smashing head on into a car being driven toward Hanover by Daniel B. Basehoar, 68, Littlestown. Total damage was estimated at $600.

Basehoar suffered a laceration of the nose and a cut of the right eyelid. He was treated by a Littlestown physician.

State police are continuing their investigation.

Senate Committee Votes Tax Slash Bill In 43 Minutes

Washington, July 9 (AP)—The Senate committee approved the $4,000,000,000 income tax cut bill today in 43 minutes.

The vote was 10 to 3, with only Democratic Senators Barkley (Ky.), Lucas (Ill.) and Connally (Tex.) opposing the reduction which would take effect next January 1.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) whipped the bill through his committee without the formality of hearings. The legislation, approved by a whopping 302 to 112 margin in the House yesterday, is identical with the original tax reduction measure vetoed by President Truman, except that the effective date is moved up from July 1, 1947, to January 1, 1948.

The committee went into closed session at 9:14 a. m. (EST) and

New County Jail Will Cost $134,787; Commissioners Give Contract To E. L. Cump

Adams county's new jail will cost $134,787. Contracts totalling that amount will be awarded, subject to the approval of the court, to four contractors, the Adams county commissioners decided this morning.

This figure is approximately $1,100 less than the bids given the commissioners on March 26 when the total was $135,905. While bids for plumbing, and heating were higher today than in March and the electrical contract remained the same, the bid for the general contract was lower by more than $2,000.

Earl L. Cump, Chambersburg, was awarded the general contract on his low bid of $107,495. Cump's bid was also the lowest in March when he asked $109,753.

SAYS MEMBERS ARE OPPOSED TO SUV CHANGE

Although the Gettysburg camp of the Sons of Union Veterans has held no meeting to take official action on a proposal that collateral relatives be admitted as members of the organization, most of its members are "unilaterally opposed" to such a change in the organization's constitution, according to William L. Meals, secretary.

A movement is on foot to bring up, at the national encampment of the Sons of Union Veterans this fall at Columbus, Ohio, a proposed amendment to the constitution which would allow the taking into membership of relatives other than those of direct lineal descent, Mr. Meals said.

Strong Support
The movement has strong support in Massachusetts, according to Mr. Meals, but is opposed by local members of the SUV and, it is believed, will find opposition from other parts of this state and other states, although with strong support from the Bay State, may be adopted.

Membership in the Sons of Union Veterans is, and has been, limited to direct lineal descendants of those who fought on the Union side in the Civil War, Meals said.

The Gettysburg camp does not hold another regular meeting until August. It is possible that it may send a representative to Columbus for the national convention, with instructions to oppose the amendment.

Motorist Fined After Collision

Oscar William Carlson, Baltimore, paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of reckless driving brought before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder by borough police after Carlson's car smashed into a parked car and a bicycle at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening on Hanover street.

Police said Carlson was driving east on Hanover street when his car struck a parked car owned by Claude Rudisill, Jr., Gettysburg R. 3, and a bicycle owned by Donald Newmaker, Gettysburg, which was parked near the auto. Damage to the Rudisill and Carlson cars was estimated at $300 each and to the bicycle $20. No one was injured.

An administration bond in the estate of M. Katie Meckley, late of Berwick township, has been entered at the office of the county register and recorder. The widow, H. C. Meckley, Abbottstown R. 1, is named as administrator.

Inspect Jail Site

This afternoon Architect Hamme, the commissioners and Surveyor LeRoy H. Winebrenner were to visit the county home farm to determine just what area will be used for the jail.

The jail will be constructed about midway between the borough line and Howard avenue and will be set back 150 feet from the right of way of the Biglerville road. The commissioners plan to utilize about 100 feet north and south of the 85 foot frontage of the jail property and plan to extend a wire enclosure as an exercise yard about 75 feet to the rear of the 96 foot deep enclosure. They also plan to go back to the county home section to the rear of the jail and 100 feet to each side of the jail for truck gardens where prisoners can work during much of the year.

Coal Miners May Strike Without Being Punished Despite "Law"

Washington, July 9 (AP)—The odds lengthened today that John L. Lewis would play his new, ace-studded contract into a grand slam.

With 75 per cent of the soft coal industry signed up for work and shooting at full production by tomorrow, southern operators still held out against the unprecedented wage pact signed yesterday by most northern and western producers.

The Southern Coal Producers association prepared to make its "final decision" at a 1 p. m. meeting today. Its 100,000 workers are idle.

But one association member acknowledged privately that it looked as though, sooner or later, all would be "forced" to accede. Lewis, it was learned, rejected their request to alter some of the terms in a 90-minute session yesterday.

Federal labor officials conceded it would be difficult for the south to hold out alone, with the rest of the country producing and selling coal—at a price perhaps 70 cents to $1 a ton higher than before.

Certain Of Outcome

Lewis proclaimed his own certainty of the outcome.

It is "reasonable to assume," he said, after telling reporters of the United Mine Workers' fat contract gains, that the rest of the industry will sign up in a few days.

He indicated a resolve to smash the southern association, his bitterest industry antagonist in recent years. Turning it purely a "propaganda agency" with which the UMW need not deal, Lewis said any of its 13 member associations may sign up independently.

Besides the unprecedented concessions—a 44 per cent basic hourly wage increase, an eight instead of a nine hour work-day, and a 10 cent instead of a nickel a ton levy for the UMW welfare fund—the contract points a loaded gun right at the southern group.

This is the next-to-last clause which provides that every signer agrees to meet in a national conference before the contract expires next June 30.

Means Collaboration

Thus, any southern operator who signs obligates himself to collaborate with the rest of the industry in next year's bargaining, instead of holding aloof as the southern association has done since its split with northern operators last December.

If the southerners fail to participate in such a meeting, the clause implies, they will find themselves faced with this year's situation all over again—in other words, invited to sign a "national" contract which they had no part in negotiating.

It became clear that coal and steel consumers would pay much of the higher wage bill. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) forecast that coal prices will jump 70 cents a ton and steel prices $1.10. Some bituminous producers estimated the coal increase at $1 a ton and in a few minutes as much as $1.25.

Loopholes Found

The contract pledges the 400,000 miners to work only when "able and willing." By this and a half-dozen other novel devices it leapfrogs most of the Taft-Hartley act, whose authors though they were putting a good-neighbor harness on Lewis and his union.

The "able and willing" language means that the miners can quit without violating the Taft-Hartley ban on stoppages in violation of contract, and without subjecting the UMW to employers' damage suits. Long-standing no-strike clauses in local contracts were all revoked.

A few legislators questioned the legality of the contract, but one observed: "We can't help it if they want to agree to a contract that by-passes the law."

Scientists Scan Mystery From Sky

Erie, Pa., July 9 (AP)—Scientists at Gannon college today planned to analyze a small bit of coral-appearing material, residue of what a Titusville, Pa., man declared was a flaming white-hot mass that streaked across the sky June 21.

Donald Bunce of Titusville, R. D. 1, a machinist at the Strutherswells Corp., said he saw the mass fall from the sky onto a farm pasture.

He reported he attempted to pick it up but could feel the heat escaping from it two feet away and went to his car for a shovel. He scooped it up and took it to work with him.

Airport Development Appropriation Cut

Harrisburg, July 9 (AP)—Governor James H. Duff reduced to $1,000,000 the funds available to the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission for grants for the development of state airports in the next two years.

"The legislature gave me an immense amount of appropriation bills," Duff commented. "I had to cut them to bring them within the budget. This cut won't interfere with the essential airport program."

Claim Confession In Trunk Murder Case

Plainfield, N. J., July 9 (AP)—Prosecutor Edward Cohn said that New Jersey's three-month-old trunk murder mystery was solved last night when mild-mannered Philip Schrell, 59, admitted he strangled his wife because of her nagging and continual debts.

Schrell was taken into custody yesterday when he returned from his work as a photo-engraver in New York city. Cohn said Schrell viewed the body that was found April 19 in a trunk on a road near Keyport, N. J., and identified it as that of his wife, Anne, 50. This confirmed the identification made a short time earlier by police on the basis of dental information, the prosecutor said.

Wedding

Schuman—Groft

Mary Theresa Groft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Groft, McSherrytown, became the bride of Earl Lester Schuman, Hanover, at a nuptial mass in the Church of the Annunciation, McSherrytown, last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, pastor of the bride. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Edward Resh and Jeanne Wagaman were best man and maid of honor. Dolores Groft, sister of the bride, and Olivette Johnson were bridesmaids. Albert Long and Claude Kitzmiller served as ushers.

During the mass, Edna Smith sang "Ave Maria," while the children's choir sang several hymns. A wedding breakfast was held at the Hotel Richard McAllister, Hanover, immediately after the ceremony. A reception was held Saturday evening at the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Schuman then left on a short trip to an undisclosed destination. The bride is a graduate of Delone Catholic high school and has been employed for several months by the Personal Finance company. The groom attended Hanover high school, served in the U. S. Army, and is now employed by the Sheffer Refrigeration company.

DEATHS

Mrs. Lucinda Baker

Mrs. Lucinda Firestone Baker, 79, widow of the late Lewis K. Baker, East Berlin, died at the Hanover General hospital at 7:55 p. m. Tuesday from injuries received in a fall three weeks ago at her home.

A life-long resident of East Berlin, Mrs. Baker was a member of the Church of the Brethren and also belonged to the Ladies' Aid society of the same church. Only survivors are a number of nephews and nieces. Funeral services Saturday at 2 p. m. (DST) at Mummert's Meeting house, near East Berlin. The Rev. J. Monroe Danner will officiate. Interment in the adjoining cemetery.

Howard M. King

Howard M. King, 80, a retired farmer, died at 7:10 p. m. Tuesday at the home of his brother-in-law, George P. Chronister, East Berlin.

A resident of East Berlin for the past 30 years, Mr. King was a member of the East Berlin Trinity Lutheran church. He also belonged to Oniska Lodge 40, Improved Order of Red Men, East Berlin, and the fire company of that place. His wife, the late Nancy Moul King, and his two children, preceded him in death about 50 years ago.

Only survivors are a number of nephews and nieces. Funeral services Friday at 2 p. m. at the Emig funeral home, East Berlin. His pastor, the Rev. Snyder Alteman, will officiate. Interment in the East Berlin Union cemetery.

Mrs. Saum Interred

Funeral services were held this morning at 10 o'clock from the Bender funeral home for Mrs. Howard Saum, 56, Orrtanna R. 1, who died at her home Saturday evening from the effects of a stroke. The Rev. George H. Berkheimer, Arendtsville, officiated. Interment in Fiohr's cemetery.

The pallbearers were Cleason, Dorsey and Lloyd Herring, Ralph Pitzer, Cleon Nary and Robert Boyd.

Man Escapes Death From Subway Train

Philadelphia, July 9 (AP)—A Market street subway train ran over a man near the 8th street station today and he was removed from the tracks 26 minutes later, still conscious and suffering only head injuries.

Andrew Marcinek, 43, was taken to Jefferson hospital for treatment. Knocked down by the train, he landed on his back between the rails and lay there as the train ground to a stop above him. The Philadelphia Transportation Co., said it had no explanation why he was walking along the underground tracks.

U.S. HOLDS ON BORDER ISSUE

Lake Success, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—

The United States served notice today it would reject any compromise plans growing out of Russia's counter-proposal to the United Nations on Balkan disorders.

A spokesman said American demands for a semi-permanent border commission to watch over Greece's frontiers with Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria were not affected by the latest Russian arguments.

He added that the Council eventually would have to vote on the American resolution, which embodies the principal points of a majority report submitted by the 11-nation Balkan investigating commission. Such a ballot would force Russia to veto or abstain in view of her announced refusal to accept the American motion.

The spokesman conceded that Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's 78-minute speech of yesterday, virtually in direct opposition to the American stand, might prompt some delegations to put forward such compromises. He said some "feelings" already had been turned aside by the Americans.

There still was nothing definite on new proposals but, Poland—a constant voting partner with the Soviet Union—and France, with her big Communist vote at home, were viewed as possible originators.

The American delegation was expected to reply to some of Gromyko's more biting accusations against the United States later this week. At one point Gromyko termed American aid to Greece "a new form of intervention" in Greece's internal affairs.

Name Consultants

Consultants selected for the Biglerville teachers' "school" include Doctor Scraftford, Doctor Mowery, Doctor Gilbert, and Doctor Powers. A special consultant in art and possibly one or two other consultants will be selected for the meetings.

According to the plans laid Monday the sessions will be held from 8:30 o'clock each morning to 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Following a lunch period the teachers will spend their afternoons in group and committee work.

The discussion subjects will be determined by the teachers themselves, Doctor Bream pointed out today.

A number of school boards are planning to ask their teachers to attend the session in a body.

Four Arendtsville FFA Youths On Air

Four members of the Arendtsville club of the Future Farmers of America will take part Friday afternoon with their agriculture teacher, John McAllister, in a program presented over a Chambersburg radio station at 1:15 o'clock.

The four selected from the Arendtsville FFA are John Mickley, Donald Heckenluber, Richard Pitzer and Owen Taylor.

McAllister said that the students will discuss their activities at State College during FFA week during the program.

Romania Rejects Conference Bid

Paris, July 9 (AP)—Romania rejected today the British-French invitation to a Paris conference on the Marshall aid-to-Europe proposal, and became the second nation in the Russian sphere to decline the bid. Bulgaria's rejection came last night.

The Romanian cabinet issued a communique rejecting the invitation.

In Moscow, meanwhile, the Soviet press made no mention today of the conference, which will open in Paris Saturday.

An Associated Press dispatch from Sofia said the Council of Ministers decided last night that Bulgaria would not take part in the meeting, to start in Paris Saturday.

Says Prices Depend On World Conditions

Washington, July 9 (AP)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said today the key to stabilization of America's economy is rehabilitation of Europe and Asia.

The Wyoming senator told a reporter that because of this "there won't be any quick solution" of the problem of reducing prices for food and other commodities in this country.

"Anyone who thinks there can be a solution by increasing wages or by cutting wages or by legislation is mistaken," O'Mahoney said. "The United States cannot be isolated from the world and world conditions."

of copper sulphate, three pounds of fresh spray lime to 100 gallons of spray) and three pounds of lead-arsenate per 100 gallons is recommended for control of the codling moth and to prevent further infection of fungi causing apple scab, sooty blotch and Brook's spot.

Bordeaux 1-3-100 is dangerous to Golden Delicious, Gano, Grimes, Jonathan or Ben Davis, the letter reveals as it may russet the fruit. For spider mite control six gallons of summer oil in 100 gallons of spray is recommended. Growers who used DDT or sulphur in recent sprays are warned however to use DN-111 or Genecide rather than oil for the mite.

For peaches the letter recommends use of a dry wettable sulphur according to manufacturer's directions about three weeks before ripening.

Held For Court On Gambling Charge

Charged with setting up and maintaining a gambling establishment, John Shuff, Hanover, was held in $500 bail for action of the Grand Jury at a hearing Tuesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace John C. Smith, Springettsbury township, York county.

Similar charges against Charles Elserman, 31, Hanover, were dropped because of lack of evidence and Elserman paid a $15 fine as a frequenter.

Action against both was a result of a raid by state police Sunday, June 29, on an alleged crap game in a farm house in Pigeon Hills, four and one-half miles north of Hanover.

Among those who forfeited $15 each for failure to appear at the hearing to answer charges of being frequenters were: Glenn E. Chronister, East Berlin R. D. 2; Ryland B. Staub, New Oxford R. D. 1; Donald Myers, New Oxford; Robert N. Miller, New Oxford; Harry Smith, Lincoln Highway West, New Oxford; Curvin A. Miller, New Oxford; John H. Cassett, Hanover, R. D. 3.

The Highway and Moose continued their domination of the Community Softball league by getting credits for victories Tuesday evening while three teams went into a dead-lock for fourth place.

In the nightcap on the high school field the unbeaten Highway outfit ran its streak to 16 by scoring a 12-0 victory over the American Legion. George and Kenny Fair hurried for the winners with Wickerham toting the slab for the Legion. Bob Kitzmiller homered for the winners.

The Texas Lunch stood off a three-run rally in the last inning to defeat the Acme 7-6 in the opener on the high school field. Shoop connected for four hits for the Acme. The defeat was the third in a row of the Acme while the victory enabled the Texas Lunch to go into a three-way tie for fourth place with Knox's Store and the Elks.

The Elks copped their third successive victory by winning handily over Knox's Store 9-3 in the opener on the college field. The winners collected a total of 14 hits, three by McKenrick.

When Evans' Store failed to muster enough men for a team the Moose gained a 9-0 forfeit in the second scheduled game at college.

Schuylkill Rising After Heavy Rains

Philadelphia, July 9 (AP)—The Schuylkill river was rising three inches an hour in Philadelphia today after heavy rains but the Quaker city was expected to escape costly floods that ravaged a score of eastern Pennsylvania communities, closing mines and damaging crops.

The Schuylkill and Lehigh rivers overflowed their banks in upstate sections yesterday forcing hundreds of persons to flee.

Six anthracite mines in the Hazleton area remained closed today for the second day as water was being pumped out of the pits. The mines were flooded by a record fall of 5.86 inches of rain in a 24-hour period. The previous mark was slightly more than three inches.

The closed mines idled 3,000 miners in the Pottsville-Shenandoah-Hazleton section. County farm agents in the area reported heavy damage to wheat, oat and other crops.

Minor League Czar Bill Bramham Dies

Durham, N. C., July 9 (AP)—William Gibbons Bramham, who ruled minor league baseball for 14 years, died in a Durham hospital yesterday after a brief illness. He would have been 73 next Sunday.

Funeral services will be here tomorrow.

Never a player but famous as the man to head four leagues at the same time, Bramham was elected to the presidency of all the minor leagues—the National Association—in December, 1932.

He retired from his post last December at the minor league office in Los Angeles. He was succeeded by George M. Trautman, then general manager of the Detroit Tigers.

WENKSVILLE 9 MUST FORFEIT SIX CONTESTS

Wenksville's hopes for capturing the top honors in the South Penn Baseball league were blasted Tuesday evening when all games in which K. Tuckey, first baseman, participated, were ordered forfeited at a meeting of league officials at the American Legion home.

Tuckey was ruled as ineligible due to residency in Mt. Holly Springs, Cumberland county, a league violation. Barlow had protested the game with Wenksville on June 22, questioning Tuckey's status.

Wenksville had been in a three-way tie with Cashtown and Bonnevill for first place with a record of eight wins and three losses. The league ruling leaves Wenksville with two wins and nine defeats.

Another protest in the game between Heidersburg and Wenksville was voted down.

James Leech and William Eisenhart were voted to the Gettysburg roster.

It was announced that proceeds from the All-Star game held at Cashtown last Sunday amounted to $95.24.

It was decided not to extend the regular season beyond July 27 when the present schedule ends.

President Roy Shanebrook presided at the meeting with all teams represented.

Another meeting will be held Tuesday, July 29, at which time forfeit money will be returned to each team.

Sammy Adragna Beats Taylor Again

Pittsburgh, July 9 (AP)—Sammy Adragna of Carnegie fooled folks who figured two to one that he'd lose to Chuck Taylor of Coalport in their 10-round main bout last night in Zivic arena.

Instead, after a round or two of accepting punishment, Adragna turned into a whirlwind and had things his own way the rest of the fight. There were no knockdowns. Adragna weighed 146, Taylor 147.

Sammy also won a fight from Taylor 18 months ago.

In other fights, Ben Skelton, 170, Pittsburgh, defeated Harold Haslett, 177, Beaver Falls, (4); Johnny Komlo, 169, Golden Glove champ from Waynesburg college, in his first pro fight, kayoed Bobby Fuller, 156, Pittsburgh (1); and Mike Kobala 145, Brownsville, won over Milton Ashford, 147, Braddock, (6).

CRONIN FINDS MANY REASONS HIS TEAM WON

By JERRY LISKA

Chicago, July 9 (AP)—The National league, whipped in the 14th All-Star major league game, still wondered what makes the American league so tough.

Jubilant Joe Cronin, who directed the American leaguers to a 2-1 triumph for their 10th victory against only four defeats before 41,123 at Wrigley field yesterday, could point to several reasons.

One might be the hell-bent-for-election base-running of Cronin's own Boston second-sacker, Bobby Doerr, who scored the decisive run in the 7th.

Credits Pinch Hitters
 Another was the pinch-hitters used by the American league. Ancient Luke Appling of the Chicago White Sox, scored the first junior circuit run in the sixth inning, and Washington's Stan Spence, rammed a single to score Doerr from third in the seventh frame.

The National leaguers had only one big moment and that was the home-run shot by big Johnny Mize of the New York Giants in the fourth inning which gave Eddie Dyers' outclassed boys their lone marker and a short-lived 1-0 lead.

Even though Dyer trotted out 23 players the losers collected only five hits off four American league tossers.

George Munger of the St. Louis Cardinals and Ralph Branca of the Brooklyn Dodgers were the only National leaguers who failed to see action.

Sain's Wild Throw
 The winning pitcher was Rookie Frank Shea of the Yankees, who pitched the middle three innings and was touched for three hits, including Mize's 380-foot homer into the right field bleachers.

The loser was Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves, who was in only for the seventh inning one-man-show by Doerr. He contributed heavily to his own downfall by pegging wildly to second on an attempt to pick off Doerr, after Doerr had stolen second by a mile off catcher Bruce Edwards of Brooklyn.

The real pitching skill was exhibited in the first three innings when Lefty Hal Newhouse of Detroit and Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell hooked up in a nifty duel in which each allowed only one hit.

Erie Misses Chance To Gain On Leaders

(By The Associated Press)

The Erie Sailors missed a good chance definitely to narrow the margin separating them from the first-place Oil City Refiners last night when they could do no better than break even with the Butler Yanks, winning the first game 4-3 but losing a second 11-5.

The Refiners meanwhile were dropping a single game to the Uniontown Coal Barons, 11-5. Oil City got 12 hits to the Barons' 11 but errors cost them the contest. Gus Solis of Oil City got four singles.

The Youngstown Colts whitewashed the Johnstown Johnnies, 5-0, behind the effective seven-hit hurling of John Kucab. It was the Johnnies' first shutout of the season on their home grounds.

The Vandergrift-Niagara Falls game was postponed because of rain. It will be part of a doubleheader July 10.

Expect Big Gate For Lightweight Bout

Philadelphia, July 9 (AP)—Take it from promoter Herman Taylor, the Bob Montgomery-Ike Williams world lightweight championship bout August 4 will gross more money than any other Quaker City fight since 1936.

"I think it's safe to say Montgomery-Williams will draw more than the Joe Louis-Al Ertore bout did back in 1936," Taylor said as the advance ticket sale opened yesterday. "Those fellows drew $233,000, this should do better."

Williams, Trenton, N. J., battler, is recognized champ of the lightweights by the National Boxing association. Philadelphia's Montgomery is regarded as the New York-Pennsylvania titleholder. The 15-round bout is designed to settle the issue.

LOCKE ON WAY TO BEAT HOGAN ON GOLD TRAIL

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Chicago, July 9 (AP)—Bobby Locke, the former "boy wonder" of Johannesburg, South Africa, who now has grown up to golf's man of the hour, today set out on a campaign to surpass Ben Hogan as the nation's leading money winner before returning home in the next two months.

The 26-year-old Locke, who as an RAF bomber pilot flew 100 missions in the Mediterranean theater during the war, trounced Ed "Porky" Oliver by six strokes to win the All-American 36-hole championship playoff yesterday and collect $7,000, golf's richest prize.

This award pushed his total earnings in winning five out of 19 tournaments to $16,187.50, and vaulted him into second position on the financial list behind little Ben, who is tops with $17,099. Hogan, however, has pocketed his change through 52 tournament rounds, while perfectionist Locke has banked his in only 32 rounds of competition since becoming the greatest golfer to visit these shores in 25 years.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

To Continue Business: Mrs. Laura B. Fissel, widow of George C. Fissel, has announced that she will continue the real estate and insurance business conducted by her husband in the Ma. one building.

Harding and Pershing View Re-enactment of Pickett's Charge: Under smiling skies and with a pleasant breeze stirring after a thunder storm and oppressive heat earlier in the afternoon, Pickett's Charge was reenacted by the Fifth and Sixth Regiments of the United States Marine Corps Saturday afternoon (July 1) before the distinguished visitors at Camp Harding.

The charge was viewed by President Warren G. Harding and Mrs. Harding, Gen. John J. Pershing, Gov. William C. Sproul, of Pennsylvania; Governor Trinkle, of Virginia; Acting Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.; Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania; Major John A. Lejeune, commander of the United States Marines; Maj. Gen. Wendell C. Neville; Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, commander of the East Coast Expeditionary Forces of the Marine Corps, and others in the official party, from the observation tower in Ziegler's Grove.

Miss Chrismer Weds Surgeon: Miss Bernadine Chrismer, daughter of Mrs. W. J. Chrismer, of Bonneauville, was married to Dr. Frank Marino, of Baltimore, Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock at a nuptial mass in St. Joseph's church, Bonneauville. Father Roger Smith, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a cousin of the bride, assisted by Father M. Scanlon, conducted the mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Marino were attended by Charles and Mary Chrismer. Only members of the family were present.

Licensed to Wed: A marriage license was issued at the Carlisle courthouse Thursday morning to Sherman P. Yingst, of Goodyear, and Bessie May Trump, of Gardners.

Sweet Corn at Market: Early sweet corn, suitable for roasting ears, made its appearance on the curb market Thursday morning, selling at 30 cents a dozen ears. The ears of corn were small, but the hucksters guaranteed their quality.

George C. Fissel: The funeral of George C. Fissel, who died early Thursday morning, was held Wednesday morning with services at the house at 10 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. J. B. Baker, officiating, assisted by Rev. Paul R. Pontius. Interment was made on the family lot in Evergreen cemetery.

The pallbearers were E. W. Thomas, M. C. Jones, Frank Peckman, John D. Keith, S. G. Spangler and A. B. Plank.

Second Largest Crowd Ever Here: By far the greatest number of automobiles and the second largest number of persons in the history of the town, made Gettysburg an objective Tuesday, the Fourth of July.

Today's Talk

READ AND READ AND READ!

We can keep learning by using these eyes of ours, and keeping our ears in a listening mood but there is no education that can be compared to the reading of many books. There are recorded the best and wisest thoughts of all men and women of the ages.

Reading is first of all informative, but it has its endless joys, too. And its endless benefits. Reading helps to give one a good and valuable vocabulary. Good writers and talkers write and talk better after wide reading of those who are better than they are. Books are the mirrors of many minds. You look into them and they reflect back an image of yourself. You go journeying with many an author whom you have never met. Yet you feel that you know him after having read his book.

I get many interesting and helpful letters from day to day from people who read this brief talk. One that especially cheered me came from a man who keeps toll on a bridge near Harrisburg, Pa. He said he had been reading these talks for a long, long period, and thought it about time to thank the writer. Then he said that he had never read a book before reading these talks, but since had collected and read a library of some three hundred volumes. I can understand the joy of that man.

A new book is like a new friend—and how very many of them prove to be old friends as well. We cannot know too much, especially if what we know is true. Many a book has opened up a new life to many. The casual remark about a good book, by a friend, started me on the road to collecting everything that that author had written. The writer so intrigued me that I spent some 20 years in collecting everything written by him or about him. I refer to Lafcadio Hearn.

It is an inspiring thing to go into a public library and note the eager ones with their eyes buried in books. You can almost feel the flow of thought in that room. It makes you think of a rippling river on its way to the sea, winding its way through mountain paths and valleys to its mother—the ocean.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Dependability"

Personal Mention:
Francis Smith, of Centralia, is spending some time at his home on South Washington street.
Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Chritzman and two children, of Harrisburg, are visiting at the home of Mrs. George W. Chritzman, Chambersburg street.

Mrs. Elsie S. Lewars, Seminary Ridge, is attending the assembly at Wilson college, Chambersburg. She had a part on the program on Thursday.
Mrs. Laurence E. Oyler, Baltimore street, and Miss Virginia Oyler, East Middle street, are spending a week with friends in Mt. Union.

TRUCK CARGO DAMAGED
Roy Blocher, Littlestown, suffered a fractured nose when a truck owned by the Adams County Novelty company, and driven by Donald Rebert, Gettysburg, sideswiped a parked tractor-trailer truck owned by the New York-New Brunswick Auto Express company about five miles west of New Brunswick, N. J., at 1 o'clock last week. Rebert was unhurt. The Gettysburg truck, enroute to New England, was loaded with tables. About three-fourths of its load was demolished and the truck was badly damaged.

RESUMPTION OF LEND-LEASE TO ENGLAND SEEN

London, July 9 (P)—Parliament had a hint from the government today, only three days prior to the Paris economic conference, that renewal of United States lend-lease before fall might be necessary to save Britain from unproductive poverty.

"We cannot indefinitely go on importing what we cannot pay for," Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison said last night in House of Commons economic debate. To bring buying down to ability to pay, he declared, Britain would have to cut imports 25 per cent and make "great adjustments" in production and standard of living.

"The only remedy x x x," he said, "lies in devising some means whereby billions of dollars worth of North and South American production could be transferred across the Atlantic without the necessity for immediate payment in the form of an equal and opposite flow of European goods."

Observers noted the similarity between this proposal and wartime lend-lease.

Of London's morning papers, only the ruling Labor party's Daily Herald refrained from criticizing government economic policy. The Communist Daily Worker said the policy "appears to be to drift until the Americans come over with a form of lend-lease."

Britain now is running into debt at the rate of $50,000,000—about $1,800,000,000—yearly to pay for food for her people, still on thin rations, and raw materials for her industry, slowly recuperating from the war. If she keeps on drawing at the current rate on her $3,750,000,000 U. S. credit, it will be gone by the end of next winter.

Morrison made no direct mention of the offer of Secretary of State George C. Marshall by which the U. S. would help European countries provided they organized for economic recovery. This offer has resulted in a British-French call for a 24-nation conference scheduled to begin in Paris Saturday.

STATE SEEKING MORE DOCTORS

Harrisburg, July 9 (P)—The commonwealth held out the opportunity for experience and training in Pennsylvania's institutions as an inducement to approximately 400 new physicians today in another move to fill vacancies on the staffs of its 22 mental institutions.

"We hope to get some of them," declared Welfare Secretary Charles R. Barber in announcing that personal letters have been sent to all applicants for licensure who will take examinations to practice medicine this week.

The state Board of Medical Education and Licensure is holding the tests in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia for graduates of medical colleges who have served their internship in certified hospitals.

Expect Princess' Engagement Soon

London, July 9 (P)—Belief that an announcement of the long-rumored engagement of Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten may be forthcoming within 24 hours grew here today as official quarters declined to deny reports that formal confirmation of the Royal betrothal was imminent.

A Buckingham palace spokesman sidestepped the issue by saying that King George VI had "not yet" authorized any statement, and another well-informed source close to the government refused to issue a denial.

Reports that the engagement between the heiress presumptive to the British throne and the former Prince of Greece was to be announced tomorrow were published under an Athens dateline by the London Daily Mail.

Greek government sources here said they had "no comment" to make.

FLYING SAUCER IS IDENTIFIED AS WIND KITE

Fort Worth, Tex., July 9 (P)—An examination by the army revealed last night that a mysterious object found on a lonely New Mexico ranch was a harmless high-altitude weather balloon—not a grounded flying disc.

Excitement was high in disc-conscious Texas until Brig. Gen. Roger M. Ramey, commander of the Eighth Air Forces with headquarters here, cleared up the mystery.

The bundle of tinfoil, broken wood beams and rubber remnants of a balloon were sent here yesterday by army air transport in the wake of reports that it was a flying disc.

But the general said the objects were the crushed remains of a ray wind target used to determine the direction and velocity of winds at high altitudes.

Found In New Mexico
Warrant Officer Irving Newton, forecaster at the Army Air Forces weather station here, said "we use them because they go much higher than the eye can see."

The weather balloon was found several days ago in a desolate section of New Mexico by a rancher, W. W. Brazill. He said he didn't think much about it until he went into Corona, N. M., last Saturday and heard the flying disc reports.

Ramey went on the air here last night to announce the New Mexico discovery was not a flying disc.

Newton said that when rigged up, the instrument "looks like a six-pointed star, is silvery in appearance and rises in the air like a kite."

Newton, who made the examination, said some 80 weather stations in the U. S. were using that type of balloon and that it could have come from any of them.

WORKMEN FACE FALL RUSH AND URGE JOBS NOW

Virtually every home in the country will need some sort of repair or improvement before winter arrives and today is the time such plans should be made and work started. If postponed until autumn, thousands of home owners will be unable to carry out their ideas because contractors and workmen will be tremendously rushed.

Mid-summer is generally a slack season for contractors, so at the present time they can do a better job because they are unhurried. Furthermore, many contractors are offering special price inducements in order to keep busy.

Winterproofing Important
New roofing, new siding, repair of masonry, painting and decorating, insulation, weather-stripping and storm windows are only a few of the items that should be considered now.

Winterproofing is probably the most important. Less than 15 per cent of the nation's homes are insulated, yet if all of them were so protected, billions of dollars could be saved each year in fuel costs, according to the United States Bureau of Mines which is conducting an intensive campaign for the winterproofing of all human-occupied structures as a fuel-conservation measure.

Quality Materials Urged
Mineral wool is the most widely used insulation material, according to the Construction Research Bureau of New York, clearing house for building information. In loose or granular form it can be easily blown into walls and ceilings of existing homes or applied in batts or blankets where there is sufficient space for a workman.

Fuel savings as high as 45 per cent have been recorded in houses that were properly insulated, weatherstripped and equipped with storm sash, numerous government, industry and university tests have proved.

In planning any repair, renovation or improvement around the home, only the best materials should be used and only reputable contractors employed, the Construction Research Bureau warns. "If shoddy materials or careless work is permitted, the home owner is letting himself in for future trouble," the Bureau adds.

Approves Revision Of School Curricula

Harrisburg, July 9 (P)—Governor James H. Duff approved a $100,000 appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for a revision of the public school curricula.

The legislation also directed the department to prepare courses in Americanism designed to educate Pennsylvania school children on the advantages of the American form of government and the economic advantages it offers.

Another education bill signed authorizes the department to license and regulate private business and correspondence schools. It carried an appropriation of $30,000 for administration.

SUMMER HOMES MADE ALL-YEAR

A growing trend toward remodeling the summer cottage into an all-year home is gaining considerable impetus as a result of the current housing shortage. Owners find remodeling usually is simple and inexpensive.

Many owners of such houses spend a few hundred dollars and pay for the work from fall and winter rents. Others find it convenient to have their cottages equipped for year-around occupancy and take vacations in off-seasons.

Insulation Needed
New developments make possible the installation of central heating at relatively small cost. Space beneath the house should be closed and insulated, however, and storm sash provided.

Most important item is thorough insulation of walls, floors and ceilings, since most summer cottages are little more than shells. Mineral wool can be blown between stud and joist spaces or applied in batt or blanket form where space is available. Naturally noncombustible gives it added value, architects say, because most summer homes are far from fire protection.

Picket Lines Block Workers At Plant

THIRD OF TOWNS HAVE NO CODES

How imperative it is that standard, modern building codes be adopted throughout the nation is revealed in a survey just completed by the President's Conference on Fire Prevention which showed that fully one-third of the communities in America have no building code whatever.

Most codes which do exist are more than 20 years old, according to Federal Works Administrator Philip B. Fleming, general chairman of the conference. "Most of these need serious revision," Mr. Fleming stated.

Among features of the standard basic code now being urged to increase fire-safety is a provision requiring naturally non-combustible fire barriers within walls. Mineral wool insulation is often used for this purpose.

RAIN IS TIME TO FIND LEAKS

Right now is an ideal time to find out whether the roof on the house leaks because mid-summer is a period when extremely heavy and violent rains occur.

During the next hard storm, the wise home owner will go into the attic with a flashlight and carefully examine the underside of the roof and the rafters for traces of moisture. One should not wait until small leaks develop to the point where they damage ceilings and walls, but this is all too often the case.

When a leak is discovered, it should be repaired immediately. Set a pan or bucket under it only until a roofer can make a permanent repair. Don't place a receptacle and then forget all about it.

And don't forget that water travels along a beam. A leak is not always exactly at the point where moisture is discovered. Trace it to its origin, and mark the spot.

scuffle with police. No one was injured sufficiently to require hospital treatment.

The back-to-work movement was launched at a meeting Monday night at which speakers called for workers to enter the plant today. The CIO-United Rubber Workers Local 285 called a strike at the plant May 28 in a dispute over terms for a new contract.

Bury Mrs. Slaybaugh
Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Gertrude Slaybaugh, 78, who died last Sunday afternoon in Harrisburg, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bender funeral home conducted by the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

The pallbearers were Maurice McCullough, Preston Hull, Charles Dougherty, Luther Plank, George Black and Donald McC. Swope.

Demand for light metals like aluminum and magnesium is increasing.

Timely And Modern Suggestions Presented By Builders And Contractors

MANY OVERLOOK DEDUCTIONS ON HOME BUILDING

Next March 15 is relatively a long way off, but the wise home buyer will start now to anticipate the date and keep a record and proof of expenses, losses and other items that can be deducted from income taxes.

Unless such records are noted at the time, the average person has considerable difficulty in recalling and documenting them when tax-paying time comes around, according to accountants who specialize in income tax work.

Use Long Form

It is estimated that home buyers are entitled to millions of dollars in deductions which they fail to report. Now, with no immediate reduction in tax rates in sight as a result of the Presidential veto of the tax bill, deductible items assume large importance.

Most home buyers who are financing their purchase with a mortgage find they will come out further ahead if they use the long tax form to compute deductions exactly for interest and real estate and other taxes instead of using the short form which makes a flat allowable deduction of 10 per cent if income is less than $5,000 or $500 if more than $5,000.

Losses caused by fire, storm, explosions, frozen pipes—even drouth and casualty damage to trees—are deductible when not fully compensated by insurance. The deduction is the difference between the amount of insurance received and cost of replacement. This does not apply, however, to termite or erosion damage. The law uses the words, "sudden, unexpected or unusual cause."

Neither can deductions be made for construction costs, expenses in acquiring property such as perfecting title, insurance premiums on the residence, decrease in value, attorney's fees, or local assessments which benefit the property.

On the other hand, the home buyer can get credit for cost of replacing trees and shrubbery, provided damage came unexpectedly by storm, drouth, insects or accident. Proof must be submitted as to loss, such as an estimate by an expert of the property value with and without the shrubbery and trees.

A HOME TO LIVE IN

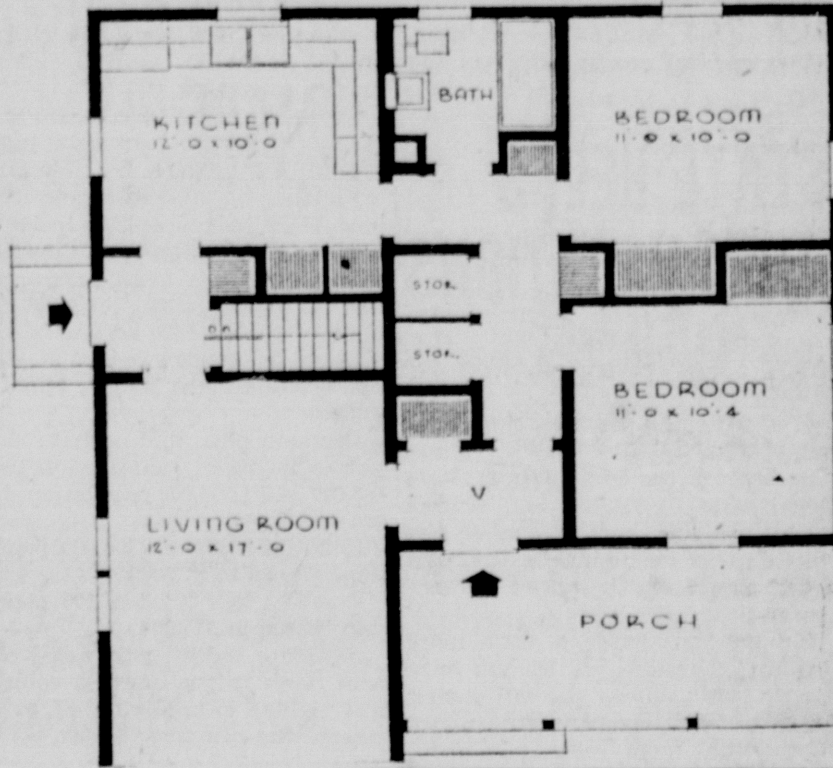

Design B-23 is a four room house featuring a variety of closets. There are wardrobes in each bedroom, coat closets in the front vestibule and side entry, linen cabinets and a large storage space in the hall, and a pot and pan closet in the kitchen.

All rooms are entered from the central hall which also connects the front vestibule.

There is a full basement except under the porch. Plans call for frame construction with interior siding or shingle walls. The main body of the house is 24' by 32'.

For further information address the Standard Homes Service, St. Cloud, Minnesota.

CARE IS NEEDED IN CEMENT WORK

Cracked and broken cement work around the house becomes a source of annoyance and expense to almost every home owner sooner or later. Although patches can be made, they are seldom satisfactory, are usually unsightly and have no permanence. Particularly is this true of walks and driveways.

The best procedure is to have the entire damaged section of walk or drive removed and replaced with new work. This is because new patches seldom bond properly with old concrete.

Concrete will fail when too much sand is used in proportion to the cement, when it is mixed with impurities, when mixing is not thorough, when the concrete is not kept moist for a proper cure, or when the base is not adequate and settling takes place.

Cement is mixed with sand and gravel in different proportions for the different jobs it must perform. Most home owners can make their own concrete for minor jobs, but directions for the mix should be followed implicitly. Proportions must be exact and not guessed at. Any cement dealer will furnish specific instructions for the job in hand.

COLDS REDUCED

Colds caused by drafts are reduced in a properly insulated home, it is stated by the United States Bureau of Mines, which adds that mineral wool is most widely used for this purpose.

CZECHS' ENTRY INTO MARSHALL PLAN PUZZLING

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Whatever may be the real significance of Czechoslovakia's decision to attend the forthcoming Paris conference on the Marshall rehabilitation plan (and the import certainly isn't clear at this writing) it's good to see this liberty-loving little republic among the acceptors of the invitation.

There is no country in whose heart the fire of freedom burns more fiercely, and it would have been a matter of keen regret to many, including your correspondent, if her membership in the Russian bloc had compelled her to decline participation in the parley. It has been my privilege to know Czechoslovakia well from her birth, and to have had the acquaintance of the late Dr. Thomas Masaryk, father of his country and her first president. And so, knowing her fighting spirit so well, it would have been a shock if she had stayed away from Paris on orders from Moscow after she already had expressed a desire to be present.

Wide Speculation

Naturally Prague's acceptance of the Anglo-French invitation to join in the economic discussion has given rise to widespread speculation, in view of Russia's condemnation of the Marshall program and refusal to participate in it. Why should Moscow seemingly acquiesce now? The answer would appear to be one of two things:

1. Czechoslovakia refused to take orders from anybody, or (2) Moscow decided that it would be a good thing for the Slavic bloc to be represented by Prague at Paris.

Strangely enough, at the same time, a Czechoslovak source in Prague was quoted as suggesting that Russia herself might try to back into the conference. Simultaneously in London British Foreign Minister Bevin indicated that the door still was open on Russia. He expressed joy that Czechoslovakia would attend the conference and declared that the Marshall program

SHRINE PROTECTED

The home of George Washington at Mount Vernon was insulated with mineral wool as a fire protection measure more than 20 years ago upon recommendation of the National Bureau of Standards.

PROTECT GARAGE

Adequate insulation with a naturally fireproof material is imperative for the garage, particularly if it is attached to the house, most architects agree.

was a step toward "a great unity of peoples throughout the world." Thus the eyes of the world are centered on the Czechoslovakian development. Probably we shall not know its meaning until the Paris conference has demonstrated it by words and deeds.

Cites Advantages Of Aluminum Roofs

Besides being utilized extensively in wide variety of paints, aluminum powders and pastes are finding increasing use in roof coatings of all types. Here the chemical, physical and mechanical properties of aluminum pigments are especially valuable in lowering the temperature in the rooms immediately below the roof and in greatly lengthening the life of the roof and roof coating, says Richard Codori, of the Roofing Division of the Citizens Oil company.

"Many industrial and commercial buildings have flat or gently sloping roofs built up by application of successive layers of saturated felt and bituminous compounds similar to tar or asphalt, which adds mechanical strength to withstand expansion and contraction strains, etc. To obtain the advantages of aluminum roof coatings on such a roof, an aluminum surface may be produced by spraying the roof with an approved vehicle containing aluminum pigment," Codori said.

"Sheet metal, wood, asphalt paper, and other materials on roofs can be protected by coating the roof surface with a bituminous-base material pigmented with aluminum," he added.

TILE TREATMENT

To clean the cement joints between kitchen or bathroom ceramic tiles, wipe the cement with javelle water or a liquid bleach containing chlorine.

EFFECTIVE FIRE-BARRIER

Exhaustive tests conducted by the National Bureau of Standards reveal that a wood-lath wall filled with mineral wool insulation will stop the passage of fire for one hour.

ARMED FORCES ASK GI'S FOR "INVENTIONS"

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

Washington, July 9 (AP)—The armed services are appealing to the public and especially ex-GI's, to help solve some knotty military problems that have American inventors stumped.

They want quick answers to such diverse problems as how to build a landing field or a road virtually overnight and how to make a gasoline engine-generator small enough for a man to carry.

The appeal is aimed primarily at ex-soldiers because officials believe many of them must have thought of ways to improve equipment they handled during the war.

Replies should be addressed to L. S. Hardland, National Inventors Council, U. S. Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C.

Urgent Problems
Here are 18 problems listed as "urgent":

1. Solidification of soils to support the emergency operation of aircraft or military vehicles on airfields or roads. Suggested solutions: use of electrical energy; freezing soils for long periods; mechanical method of compaction or pressure.

2. Development of rectifier tubes in 8,000 to 40,000 volts range. They will be used to operate an electron image tube.

3. Storage batteries for low temperature operation, down to 50 degrees below zero.

4. Gas turbines of less than 200 horsepower whose economy of operation is comparable to or better than conventional internal combustion engines. To be used for operating water and petroleum pumps and electric power generators.

5. Ultra light-weight gasoline power units, from one to five horsepower, to be carried by personnel.

New Types Of Fuel
6. New types of fuels and lubricants for use in extremely hot and cold climates.

7. Plastics suitable for structural material in building such things as bridges; airplane landing mats; boats; pneumatic floats; collapsible water tanks, and transparent windows that will not become brittle after folding.

8. Light-weight, high strength, non-corrosive structural metals to be used in engine-generator sets, air compressors, pontoon boats and bridges.

9. The dry development of photographic film by a method that can be used in truck trailers.

10. A method for preventing corrosion and deterioration in all types of materials exposed to extreme weather, such as the tropics.

11. Preventing materials from changing physical characteristics in extremely low temperatures.

Other Problems
12. A gliderborne lifeboat which may be launched from water or land and towed by powered aircraft to persons in distress in the water.

13. A gun that will throw a line 1,200 feet in rescue work or for towing. Equipment must weigh less than 100 pounds.

14. A device to detect fog, rain, squalls or snow at a distance of three or four miles, and which will automatically start a fog signal in operation on an unattended light-vessel.

15. A miniature radio transmitter to be used on life-saving flotation equipment as an aid in locating survivors in distress at sea. Its signal should reach up to 70 miles and its weight should not exceed one pound.

16. A device to warn of the presence of combustible gas fumes on gasoline-engine propelled boats.

17. A more efficient salt water evaporator for ships.

18. A land-going lifeboat for coastal life saving, such as the army amphibious vehicle; the duck, but more buoyant and faster.

SPLIT INCOME SAVES COUPLES MANY MILLIONS

Harrisburg, Pa., July 9 (AP)—Married couples in Pennsylvania were expected to save $100,000,000 in federal income taxes by enactment of a state community property law.

Governor James H. Duff signed the much-discussed split-income tax bill yesterday. He said the $100,000,000 saving annually for married couples "cannot possibly be over-looked."

The measure, establishing the community property principle in the commonwealth—13th state to enact such legislation—permits a husband and wife to divide the family income, although the husband may earn it all, and file separate federal income tax reports, each for one half of the family earnings.

The new law, however, is effective on September 1, and income for the last four months of 1947 consequently may only be reported under the split plan.

Other Provisions
Other major provisions of the new law:

Retains as the property of a husband or wife, personal property or real estate owned by either spouse before marriage or before the effective date of the law. Any gift or inheritance to either also is exempted from the community property principle.

Allows either spouse to convey to the other their share of the community property and in event of divorce each party would retain "an undivided half interest" in the community property.

"I am not unaware that such a radical change in the law of Pennsylvania will cause some confusion and will be the cause of considerable litigation," Governor Duff said in a statement issued with his approval of the bill.

"But the fact that $100,000,000 will be saved to the taxpayers of the commonwealth is such a vast amount of money, particularly at the time the taxes are generally so onerous that I believe that it is in the interest of the people of the commonwealth to approve the bill and run the risk of the confusion that will be caused by the new legislation."

Opposed By Lawyers
A group of judges and lawyers had urged the governor to veto the bill declaring that its "harmful results to the people of Pennsylvania would greatly outweigh any tax advantages that might be derived from it."

They claimed the measure would "only incidentally affect taxes" but would have "drastic and undesirable consequences upon property rights, leading to much confusion in the field of decedents' estates law and costly litigation."

Under community property laws, the U. S. Treasury reported, a couple with a $5,000 joint income would save 4.8 per cent; 15.7 per cent for $10,000; 22.1 per cent for $15,000 and 28.9 per cent for $25,000.

Rep. A. V. Capano (D-Washington) opposing passage of the bill in the Assembly, said only a few in the upper income brackets would benefit by it while persons with incomes of $3,000 or less would save only two per cent "if anything."

Philadelphia is the clearing house for all messages to and from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and the counties of Maryland and Virginia on the Del-Mar-Va peninsula. Messages arriving here are sorted by routing clerks and carried by conveyor belts to relay operators who retransmit the message on teletypes—electric telegraph typewriters.

A radio beam system has been operated experimentally between Philadelphia and New York since February, 1945, the company said. Commercial use will start shortly over a system connecting Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, New York and Washington.

The company said radio beam transmission, with radio towers 30 to 50 miles apart to relay super high-frequency waves, is not affected by the weather hazards that frequently cut service over telegraph poles and lines.

NO JOKE
Salt Lake City, July 9 (AP)—Merle Stewart, remembering army practical jokes such as left-handed monkey wrenches and bunk stretchers, was skeptical when he came on a War Surplus Administration surplus sale list showing "trunk, elephant, one lot." He investigated, believing he would find it all in fun, but learned that an "elephant trunk" is a flexible nozzle used on cement mixers.

STATE HELPS ON VACATIONS

(By The Associated Press)
Here's a formula for a cheap vacation in Pennsylvania:

1. Go to the nearest store and buy a tent.

2. Apply to the Pennsylvania State Department of Forests and Waters for a camping site in one of the state's parks for as little as 40 cents a day or $10 for the entire summer season.

Should you prefer a little more comfort, the state will let you have a cozy cabin among the tall timber for $7 a week—completely furnished except for linen, cooking utensils, cutlery, dishes and blankets.

The program is part of the department's effort to give the public a fuller realization of the beauties of the state's 1,655,870 acres of woodlands.

Cabins can be obtained in 13 state forests in Bucks, Sullivan, Pike, Cumberland, Clearfield, Westmoreland, Somerset, Potter, Fulton, Clarion, Jefferson and Centre counties.

Cabins renting for $7 a week each have two beds. The largest available cost the camper $15 a week and have three rooms with four beds. Most are near lakes or streams and many have such embellishments as horseback riding establishments close at hand.

For the tent-carrying camper the space costing 40 cents a day amounts to 40 by 40 feet. Park facilities such as tables, benches, water and firewood are ready at hand. At some spots they will even sharpen your axe for you.

Persons desiring more complete information may write to the state Department of Forests and Waters, Harrisburg.

ALL JUDGES IN STATE WILL GET PAY INCREASES

Harrisburg, July 9 (AP)—All judges in Pennsylvania and members of the legislature are going to get more money.

Governor James H. Duff signed into law yesterday legislation increasing judicial salaries from the Supreme Court down 17 to 20 per cent for a total of $839,000.

He also approved another bill allowing each of the 258 members of the legislature $1,200 a year for expenses and clerk hire in addition to their two-year salaries of $3,000 for regular sessions of the assembly. The expense allowance added $615,000 to the biennial legislative cost.

Pay Increases
The increases granted the judiciary:

Supreme Court, chief justice, from $20,000 to $23,500; associate justices, $19,500 to $23,000.

Superior Court, president judge, $18,500 to $21,500; associate judges, $18,000 to $21,000.

Philadelphia and Allegheny Common Pleas judges, $14,500 to $16,500.

Philadelphia Municipal Court and Allegheny county court judges, $10,000 to $12,000 with the president judge receiving $500 additional.

Dauphin county common pleas and orphans court judges, $15,000 to $18,000.

Common pleas and orphans' court judges in other counties between 100,000 and 1,000,000 population, $12,000 to $14,000.

Counties 65,000 to 100,000 population, $10,000 to $12,000.

Counties less than 65,000 population, $9,000 to $11,000.

Associate judges, who assist common pleas judges in rural counties, will receive a minimum of $720 a year at the rate of $6 a day.

Information may write to the state Department of Forests and Waters, Harrisburg.

SAVE LIFE OF CRASH VICTIM

Honolulu, July 8 (AP)—Three blood plasma transfusions—one administered by an expectant mother who listened to a doctor's instructions via amateur radio—enabled a 19-year-old army radioman to survive a night plane crash at Palmyra Island which cost his right arm and leg.

The blond radioman, whom Seventh Air Force officers declined to identify, was brought by rescue plane to Hickam Field today, with five shaken but unhurt fellow crewmen. Their C-46 cargo plane had crashed on a reef at Palmyra, 1,000 miles south of Hawaii.

The plane broke into several pieces and crewmen scrambled out, rescue crewmen reported. The radioman, they said, told them he thought at first the transmitter had exploded; he reached for a fire extinguisher but discovered "I don't have any hand." Crawling from the shattered, burning plane into knee deep water, he stumbled twice and thought he was stepping into a hole; "Then I found my leg was gone."

A rescue plane took off from Hickam Field, and Lt. E. R. Shanahan, Washington, D. C., the army doctor aboard, radioed his instructions from the plane. Shanahan arrived five hours later and administered two more plasma transfusions and morphine.

The first radio instructions came from Dr. Ralph W. Davis, chief surgeon in the Audubon, N. J., hospital. His aid was enlisted by a radio amateur there, Joseph Bonsted, a shipyard worker on vacation, in response to a call from Steve Sherwood Barnes of Phoenixville, Pa., stationed on Palmyra Island. The two radio amateurs previously had been in contact with each other.

Johnson Returns To PUC Position

Harrisburg, July 9 (AP)—Albert W. Johnson, Jr., recently acquitted with his father, former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson of charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice, returned today to his duties as a principal hearing examiner of the Public Utility Commission.

Chairman John Siggins, Jr., said Johnson's return from military leave was effective July 3 and that he will be assigned "from this office." Johnson received $3,000 a year at the time of his original appointment in 1941 but the amount of his salary now, including increments, has not been finally determined.

Johnson, who served in the army in South Pacific, came here earlier this year with his father and two brothers, Miller W. Johnson and Donald C. Johnson, to stand trial in the U. S. District court in which his father sat for more than 20 years.

Vote Fraud Probe May Be Dropped

Washington, July 9 (AP)—Two members of a three-man Senate Judiciary subcommittee today were reported ready to recommend that further investigation of Kansas City vote fraud charges be dropped.

A member of the committee, who asked that his name not be used, said Senators McCarran (D-Nev.) and Langer (R-ND) have signified their intention of opposing any further inquiry into the reputed failure of Attorney General Tom Clark to pursue the fraud charges.

Chapter 12

It occurred to him that Steve Gellis might be staying on to ward off possible repercussions in the form of damage suits. Or it could be that Steve was staying in order to prevent possible vandalism. Mrs. Elton, the housekeeper, had said she would not be responsible for things lost or stolen.

"But if he thinks he's hanging around just to play fast and loose with Susie, he's nuts. I'll have a talk with that young lady myself."

Having settled the problems of Steve Gellis and Susan Brown, John's thought returned to the subject that was still uppermost in his mind—his failure, so far, to get acceptable pictures.

Except for the Peyton couple, who had wandered off somewhere soon after their arrival, the guests were eager enough to be photographed. But each had a definite idea about posing and refused to be swayed an inch.

For instance, the undersized Frank Gaines had been bent upon posing astride a horse, whereas his wife, Bella, was equally adamant about posing on the tennis courts. It was clear from the start that no compromise was possible.

It was finally decided, upon Steve's suggestion, that Frank should sit on the horse, with Bella standing nearby, a tennis racket in her hand.

It was definitely not a suitable pose to illustrate a story on "how to be happy though married," which was what "America Loves" really wanted, but John Bates had held onto his temper and made the best of it. He well knew the picture would not be the portrait of a couple happily married. That glint in Frank Gaines' eyes as he looked down at his wife was not love-light. It was anger and resentment, pure and simple. And so it went.

Later John had encountered Susan in the hallway and they had gone down to the beach for a swim. He had taken his beloved camera along and wasted at least a thousand feet of film making pictures of Susan just because she looked so cute in that blue bathing suit. Cheesecake—pure and simple.

He could tell by the position of the sun that it was almost noon. He knew that he should be back on the job, taking pictures of the contest winners and whatever activities they happened to be engaged in at the moment.

It was doubtful, however, that they would be doing anything except sitting, while J. Howard Cranston regaled them with choice tidbits out his experiences as a traveling salesman and interminable stories of life in Lincoln, Nebraska. Their fondness for sitting, it seemed, was exceeded only by Cranston's penchant for talking.

It was a good joke on Steve Gellis, John decided, that none of the guests seemed inclined to take part in the sports which he had planned for their enjoyment. At the dinner table the night before they had confessed, one by one, that they had little interest in outdoor life. Not one of them could swim. Cranston had referred to golf as "a rich man's game," which he had no time for. Frank Gaines expressed a liking for indoor pool, then lapsed into a sullen silence when Bella flashed him an accusing glance.

Bella, while admitting an ability to ride horseback, had agreed with Ellen Mansfield, that strenuous sports were unladylike. And Mrs. Cranston's timid confession that, as a girl, she had played softball with the boys, and still enjoyed a bit of croquet now and then was met with a rather horrified silence. It was as though a bombshell had exploded in their midst. John grinned at the memory of Steve Gellis' harassed face and his hasty assurances that a croquet set would be installed immediately, if it were humanly possible to find one on Long Island.

The idea that the guests were getting into the young publisher's hair was immensely pleasing to John Bates. In fact, he must have fallen asleep on that comfortable thought, for he opened his eyes a little while later to see Susan standing over him. She was wearing the blue bathing suit and had obviously been in the water. Her blonde curls were quite wet, she was carrying her rubber cap in her hand, and she seemed to be breathless, as if from running.

"Gee—that was a narrow escape," she exclaimed, and dropped down on the sand beside John.

"Well, well"—he sat up, grinning, still not fully awake—"if it isn't little Susie herself. I was just thinking about you, sugar."

"Liar," Susan teased him. "You were sound asleep and you know it. I could have drowned too. I did all but drown. I don't swim any too well—and the undertow was terrible. I guess I was foolish to go out by myself, but the water looked so cool and—and friendly."

John was all solicitude now. "Sure you're all right, Susie?"

"Oh, I'm fine now. I was just scared. It was a dumb thing to do anyhow. But I wanted to get in

To Sell Old Jail

Architect Hamme said that the building will carry out all modern ideas in regards to jails and that the three cells for women downstairs and the three cells for women upstairs will have separate entrances and be completely separate so that one or the other of the women's cell tiers could be used for detention of juveniles if wished. Juveniles cannot be placed in the same jail a little practice swimming while nobody else was around. It burns me up to be so dumb about sports. Why, I'm as much of a dud as those—er—ghostly daisy-pickers. All I can do is play a feeble game of tennis. I certainly can't swim worth a hoot." She shook her head in deprecation of her poor accomplishments.

John reached out and patted her shoulder, wincing with pain as he did so. He had lain too long in the sand and his flesh was beginning to ache from sunburn. Secretly he had to admit that he had been even dumber than Susan.

"I wouldn't worry about sports, kid," he told her.

"You'll get along. I've seen a lot worse swimmers, and you do pretty well for yourself in tennis. I was watching you yesterday when you played that set with Steve. You didn't do at all badly—even if you were a little self-conscious on account of you were playing the boss. Gee, you'd have beaten the jerk, if you'd let yourself go."

Susan's eyes shone with delight. "Oh, do you think so? Do you really think I could have beaten Steve Gellis?"

sections with adults, he pointed out.

Part of the cost of constructing the new jail will be defrayed by sale of the old jail, the commissioners said. There was some discussion concerning the possibility of selling the old jail before the new one is built and placing an office for the sheriff in the court house, but no action was taken.

Three To Share $750,000 Estate

Philadelphia, July 9 (AP)—Three Coatesville residents are listed as beneficiaries in the estate of Miss Mary K. Comly under her will probated here today.

The estate is estimated at nearly $750,000. Miss Comly, who died July 1, was a member of one of the oldest Quaker families in Philadelphia. Her grandfather, Thomas Ridgway, was a member of the group that founded the Girard trust in 1836 and was for more than 30 years president of the bank.

Individual bequests under Miss Comly's will included $20,000 to Elsie Ridgway, of Coatesville, and $5,000 each to Mrs. Mary Ridgway and Elizabeth Baker of Coatesville.

Bumper Wheat Crop Rolling In Kansas

Great Bend, Kan., July 9 (AP)—The golden tide is rolling in from Kansas' big wheat harvest.

Grain belt reports indicated today farmers are capitalizing on a combination of good weather after a long rainy spell, improvement in the supply of combines, and just plain get-the-job-done determination to bring in the greatest crop in the state's history.

In many counties, yields were exceeding early expectations—bolstering predictions of some observers that the crop will top the government's latest estimate of 278,000,000 bushels.

LICENSED TO WED

A marriage license has been secured in Frederick by Lewis H. Heintzelman and Doris M. Hays, both of Gettysburg.
